President's Message - Working Smarter, Not Harder

In my quest to work smarter, not harder, I found a couple great resources during NARI's National Convention in Cleveland that I wanted to share with you.

- #1 Super Cool Must Try- Sherwin Williams - Color Visualizer Tool - You can find the perfect colors for your walls or the walls of your client. You can virtually upload a pic and paint the virtual walls or experiment with one of their rooms.
- #2 FREE Access to the JLC Field Guide - At JLCfieldguideNARI.com (Priority Code: PELLANARI) you will receive complimentary access to the most powerful training tool in the business. It is the most comprehensive, trusted skill training and best practices resource for pros in our industry.

I hope these suggestions make you a bit more productive and your working life a tad easier. They are brought to you by two Industry Partners of NARI. As a Contractor, I prefer to purchase from NARI Suppliers. I like to support those who support us.

Allegations of Defective Construction May Leave Contractors With Insurance Issues

Because of a recent Supreme Court Case (The Westfield Case), contractors are finding that just because a construction defect is alleged in a lawsuit, they may not have insurance coverage. But you can fight this unfair determination by the insurance company. Here's how...

NARI Office Remodel - Volunteer Opportunity

It has been 10+ years since the NARI Office had a face lift. Working with Anne Rogers Interiors, NARI has drawn up plans to better utilize our space and make needed updates. From the moment potential members and clients walk through the door we want to create a positive professional impression.

The Scope of Work will include interior painting, re-laminating conference tables, some minor electrical work, relocating cabinetry and several small carpentry projects. If you or someone in your company is willing to help we are looking for volunteers. Please contact our office ASAP at 614-895-3080. We plan to schedule a work-day shortly.

Build, Remodel & Landscape Expo

NARI of Central Ohio is collaborating with the Build, Remodel & Landscape Expo, which will be held January 15-17, 2016 at the Greater Columbus Convention Center.

This special section just for NARI members features a NARI Stage for professional consumer presentations of the latest trends and newest innovations in our industry.

We believe this three day show will be valuable to our members as it is the first Home Improvements Expo of the year. We have many members who speak very highly of the quality of leads they receive from this show. The Build, Remodel & Landscape Expo delivers an audience that has always been characterized as buyers, as opposed to just lookers; and it is the unique timing that is largely responsible for attracting the most serious attendees. The marketing is strong and they target married couples who own their own home, between ages 30 and 55. The Show advertises intensely on TV, radio and in print. The high volume media barrages assures thousands of serious buyers. Call NARI at 614-895-3080 with any questions. Information and rates are here...
